COURSE SYLLABUS

Relationship, Care...relationshiplooking After You

2021-2-I0101D905

Aims

Improvement of the relationship between caregiver and patient

Contents

Who looks after people in difficult situations has always reflected on the extent to which the emotional component can intervene in the care. Left the extremes which gave the absolute primacy to the two aspects, one is the relationship, the other is the primacy of the medical and pharmacological praxis, nowadays there is a tendency to turn to a direction where the complexity of the intervention and the interaction of all the key factors (human, scientific and emotional) become a unique to investigate from a phenomological and not scientific analytical perspective.
