

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Sociology

1920-1-I0102D007-I0102D022M

Aims

Sociology - Prof. Maurizio Ghisleni

These Lectures aim to introduce students to the comprehension of some basic processes by which everyday life takes place. Society is an 'artificial' entity coming from conventions, routines and behavior patterns; it deals with the 'reality' of life day by day. So, this explains why we are interested in focusing on the dimension of everydayness. Finally, the lectures end with a special consideration of the relation between social inequalities and people's health.

Contents

- Socialization processes and the construction of social 'reality'
 - The taken for granted social reality
 - Time, space, body: the coordinates of social life
-
- The social knowledge and the dynamics of life day by day
 - The health and the problem of its explanation

- Health inequalities

Detailed program

Prerequisites

No particular prerequisite

Teaching form

Lectures, text discussions, audio\video materials

Textbook and teaching resource

1)Maurizio Ghisleni, Roberto Moscati, Che cos'è la socializzazione, Carocci, Roma 2001 (solo Cap. I, II, V);

2) Maurizio Ghisleni, Sociologia della quotidianità. Il vissuto giornaliero, Carocci, Roma 2004 (solo Presentazione, Cap. I, II e par. 3.1);

3) Mario Cardano, Diseguaglianze sociali di salute, in Giovanna Vicarelli (a cura di), Cura e salute. Prospettive sociologiche, Carocci, Roma 2013, pp. 25-50.

Semester

First Semester

Assessment method

Written

Office hours

By appointment: maurizio.ghisleni@unimib.it
