

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Physical Therapy Differential Diagnosis in Patients With Dizziness

1920-2-I0201D081

Aims

To know and to understand the difference between dizziness with objective and subjective symptoms

- To know and to understand diseases that make objective and subjective symptoms
- To understand red flags in the research of the cause of subjective dizziness
- To know how assess dizziness with the history of the patients
- To confirm the evaluation by using tests.

Contents

Detailed program

- differences between instability and dizziness; and between objective and subjective symptoms in dizziness
- classification of dizziness with objective symptoms (Menière, BPPV, VIII c.n. neurinoma, semicircular canals' lesion)
- classification of pathology that may make subjective symptoms (cervical, CNS, otosclerosis, MS, otitis, VBI, pharma, alcohol, diabetes, cardiac problems, orthostatic hypotension)
- to show what physiotherapist can treat
- individuation of the biomechanics behind the born of cervical dizziness

- differential diagnosis and routine using vestibular tests, nystagmus tests and neurological tests.

Prerequisites

Teaching form

Lessons

Textbook and teaching resource

Harrison's Principles of internal medicine, VARIOUS REFERENCE.

Semester

Assessment method

Attendance.

Office hours
