UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Oncology I

1920-3-H4102D023-H4102D073M

Aims

1. Understanding the basis of immunological treatments in the context of solid tumours

2. Understanding the biology and clinical behavior of skin tumours

3. Understanding the biology and clinical behavior of gastrointestinal cancers

4. Understanding the biology and clinical behavior of lung tumours

Contents

1. A) The clinical history of patients with progressive lung cancer B) The clinical history of a patient with progressive renal cancer C) The clinical history of a newly diagnosed melanoma patient

2. A) The clinical picture of a young patient with melanoma B) The clinical picture of an old patient with basal cell carcinoma

3. The multisciplinary approach of a patient with a new diagnosis of gastrointestinal cancer

4. The clinical picture of an old man referred to the emergency room for dyspnea, pleural effusion and mediastinal syndrome and affected by lung cancer

Detailed program

Prerequisites

BASIC CLINICAL SKILLS course

Teaching form

practical guided observation activities with briefings and debriefings by hospital tutors

Textbook and teaching resource to be defined

Semester

second term

Assessment method

practical skills observation and rating scale assessment

Office hours

on appointment