

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Vascular Surgery

2021-4-H4102D027-H4102D095M

Aims

To provide the concepts necessary for understanding pathologies, indications and procedures of the vascular surgery field.

Contents

The clerkships will cover the most important aspects related to surgical treatment of vascular pathologies as aneurysms, carotid disease, peripheral artery disease. Students will acquire the basic knowledge required to diagnose the most important vascular disease and to acquire knowledge of the main technical procedures.

Detailed program

1. Diagnosis of the most important vascular disease in the outpatients setting.
2. Surgical indications for vascular surgery in hospitalized patients.
3. Basic concepts and observations activities regarding treatment of aneurysms in the operating room.
4. Basic concepts and observations activities regarding treatment of carotid disease in the operating room.
5. Basic concepts and observations activities regarding treatment of peripheral artery disease in the operating room.

Prerequisites

Basic Clinical Skills course

Teaching form

Practical guided observation activities with briefings and debriefings by hospital tutors

Practical teaching in Cardiac Surgery Ward and in the Operating Room

Textbook and teaching resource to be defined

Semester

First Semester

Assessment method

Practical skills observation and rating scale assessment

Office hours

Contact by e-mail
