UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Social Sciences

2021-1-I0201D128-I0201D184M

Aims

This course aim is first to to present the social sciences approacth to health, illness and the healthcare systems. Secondly the course will provide the essential features of the Italian and Lombard welfare model, as an institutional, social and cultural context. After a general introduction on social sciences and on the meaning of sociological analysis of healthcare institutions, we will focus on the healthcare system emerging from the 2015 regional healthcare reform.

Contents

- The social sciences and the sociological approach

- The sociolocy of health

- Welfare systems as institutions

- The Italian welfare

- The Lombard welfare

Detailed program

- Why institutional, social and cultural contexts are important
- The social sciences approacth to health, illness and the healthcare systems
- The Italian welfare system
- The Lombard welfare system
- The 2015 lombardo healthcare reform

Prerequisites

Teaching form

Offline lectures (except for possible emergency measures), for compliance with prevention norms against the Covid 19 spread.

Textbook and teaching resource

Federico Neresini (2001) Salute, malattia e medicina: lo sguardo sociologico, in Bucchi Massimiliano e Neresini Federico, Sociologia della salute, Carocci, Roma. (the reading will be availabe at the beginning of the course)

Gori Cristiano (2018) Il welfare delle riforme. Il welfare lombardo tra norme ed attuazione, Maggioli editore, Rimini. Chapter 1 only. Free download of this book from the LombardiaSociale website: http://www.lombardiasociale.it/2018/07/16/lanalisi-della-x-legislatura-il-welfare-delle-riforme/

Semester

First semester

Assessment method

The assessment method is presented in the overall course syllabus

Office hours

By appointment