UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

The Organ Donation Process: The Care of a Potential Organ Donation Patient

2021-2-I0101D109

Aims

to describe the services currently offered by health and social welfare system and the legislation on organ transplants to identify the phases of the donation process from the brain injury to the possibility of donation (exclusion criteria for organ donation) to include the areas of intervention of the health professionals to define ethical aspects related to the whole process

Contents

the history of the Italian Association of Organ Donors (A.I.D.O)

framework of the process of organ and tissue donation and the general organ donor criteria for donation

the neurological criteria for donation after brain death and the maintaining organ donors

the nurse-family relationship the experience of health professionals in the donation process

Detailed program

9:00 to 11:00: the history of the Italian Association of Organ Donors (A.I.D.O)
11:00 to 13:00: the services offered by health and social welfare system: access and interventions
2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.: presentation of the experience of a person who received a transplant

Prerequisites

2nd 3rd year Nursing Students

Teaching form

Lectures
Guided discussion
Case studies

Textbook and teaching resource

Semester

Second semester

Assessment method

Office hours