

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

The Organ Donation Process: The Care of a Potential Organ Donation Patient

2021-2-I0101D109

Aims

- to describe the services currently offered by health and social welfare system and the legislation on organ transplants
- to identify the phases of the donation process from the brain injury to the possibility of donation (exclusion criteria for organ donation)
- to include the areas of intervention of the health professionals
- to define ethical aspects related to the whole process

Contents

- the history of the Italian Association of Organ Donors (A.I.D.O)
- framework of the process of organ and tissue donation and the general organ donor criteria for donation
- the neurological criteria for donation after brain death and the maintaining organ donors
- the nurse-family relationship the experience of health professionals in the donation process

Detailed program

9:00 to 11:00: the history of the Italian Association of Organ Donors (A.I.D.O)

11:00 to 13:00: the services offered by health and social welfare system: access and interventions

2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.: presentation of the experience of a person who received a transplant

Prerequisites

2nd 3rd year Nursing Students

Teaching form

Lectures

Guided discussion

Case studies

Textbook and teaching resource

Semester

Second semester

Assessment method

Office hours
