

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Environmental Law

2021-1-F7501Q037

Aims

The course aims to provide a basic knowledge of the principles, sources, instruments, actors and administrative procedures characterizing Environmental Law, in the light of the reform implemented by Legislative Decree no. 152 of April 3, 2006 (so-called Environmental Consolidated Act).

In particular, the expected goal is to provide the student with a method for examining the phenomenon of legal regulation of the environment, in order to achieve an adequate understanding and knowledge of the main features of Environmental Law.

Contents

The course will be focused on the analysis of notions governing environmental protection, especially through the reconstruction of the organizational aspects of the public administration, the activity of the public authorities and its implementation in the courts.

Detailed program

GENERAL PART

The progressive emergence of the public interest in the field of environmental protection;

Legislative and administrative functions concerning Environmental Law;

Actors and legal positions: European Environment Agency, Ministry of Environment, ISPRA, Regions, ARPA, environmental organizations, etc.;

Functions, procedures and administrative acts (EIA, SEA, EIA, etc.);

The protection of the environment through criminal law (nodes).

SPECIAL PART

Soil protection and water protection;

Air pollution and climate;

Energy from renewable sources;

Waste and environmental cleanup;

Nature conservation and biodiversity protection;

Acoustic and electromagnetic pollution.

Prerequisites

Basic knowledge of law principles.

Teaching form

During the Covid-19 emergency period, classes will take place remotely employing asynchronously recorded video lessons.

Textbook and teaching resource

For all the students: G. Rossi, Diritto dell'ambiente, Torino, Giappichelli, last available edition.

For the attending students only: materials made available on the e-Learning platform.

Semester

first semester

Assessment method

Oral examination on the topics covered by the program carried out through an interview with the candidate to verify her/his knowledge of the above-mentioned topics. In the Covid-19 emergency period, the oral exams will be conducted online, using the WebEx platform. The e-Learning page of the course will contain a public link to allow the potential audience to witness the exam.

Office hours

Monday at 2,30 p.m. by appointment
