

SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Environmental Justice and Geopolitics of The Sea

2021-1-F7502Q039

Obiettivi

Comprensione delle principali questioni relative allo studio degli oceani e degli spazi transnazionali secondo la prospettiva delle geopolitica critica.

Capacità avanzata di analisi critica e di comprensione della letteratura scientifica e delle narrative relative agli oceani, e delle dinamiche geopolitiche in atto per la conquista del sea-power.

Comprensione delle principali sfide (acidificazione, estrazione di petrolio e gas, pesca eccessiva, attività minerarie, bio-propsecting, geoingegneria) per la gestione dei fondali marini profondi.

Abilità di condurre studi e ricerche interdisciplinari.

Contenuti sintetici

Dopo una breve introduzione sugli approcci più recenti alla geografia politica e alla geopolitica critica, il corso si concentra dapprima sulla rappresentazione storica dell'oceano come "spazio politico e sociale" e su come il mare possa essere inquadrato dal discorso geopolitico internazionale, in relazione ai processi di territorializzazione, di geo-power e di extra-territorialità degli spazi marini. La seconda parte del corso riguarda la geopolitica dei fondali marini profondi, e si focalizza in particolare su definizioni, valori, diritti di proprietà, accesso, stato di salute e futura condizione dei fondali marini, una dimensione degli oceani ricca di riserva e sempre più contesa e contestata.
