Pedagogia dell'Inclusione Sociale - M-Z

Course title

The pedagogical meaning of objects in inclusive education practices

Topics and course structure

The course explores the categories, the instruments and the methodologies of a pedagogy of social inclusion. Briefly speaking, pedagogy of social inclusion is an educational reflection that questions the concept of “social inclusion” and “inclusive practices”. The course critically deals also with the design, the implementation and the evaluation of inclusive contexts aimed at developing educational processes.

Subject of 2020-2021 course

What experience do educators and learners have about objects? What role do objects play in educational and inclusive practices? What do they do and what do they promote? How do they contribute to generate courses of action, sociability, learning, inclusion or exclusion? What is their meaning from a pedagogical point of view? These questions become relevant if one considers that educational experiences are constitutively mediated by objects, technologies, artifacts, documents, furnishings, materialities and materials of various nature and that thinking and doing social inclusion often means to modify existing tools and aids or designing new ones. To professionally educate in an inclusive perspective, it is therefore necessary to undertake a specific pedagogical reflection on the meaning of objects in inclusive education practices. The course of this academic year is therefore proposed as a theoretical-methodological study on the relationship between education, inclusion and objects.
