

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Seminar of Psychology

2122-98R-SPsychology

Title

Psychology in Contemporary Society: Series of Workshops

Teacher(s)

Prof. Ilaria GRAZZANI is the Coordinator of the Series of Workshops

The Course includes the following workshops:

1. January, 25, 2022 - prof. Guido Veronese: "Psychological research: decolonizing curricula and reframing models in context of political oppression" (h. 9-12)
2. February 16, 2022 - Paul Rhodes: "Activist psychologist: An open dialogue with Paul Rhodes on the decolonization" (h. 9-13) (Ed. Guido Veronese)
3. March 17, 2022- dr. Federica Pallavicini: "Psicologia nella realtà virtuale: introduzione e applicazioni in ambito di ricerca / Psychology in Virtual Reality: Introduction and Research Applications" (h. 9-18)
4. May 2nd, 2022- dr. Patricia Pacheco (ISEC Lisbona): "Family literacy: The importance of parents' beliefs and practices in the development of children's literacy skills" (h. 11-13.30) (EDS. by Veronica Ornaghi & Eleonora Farina)
5. June 16th, 2022 - Prof. Ilaria Grazzani (Lab-PSE, Unimib): "Research on children's development of social cognition: methods and findings from Lab-PSE team" (h.9-12)

Language

Language: English

Short description

The course offers an introduction to some lines of the contemporary research in Psychology, thanks to the presentation of some research projects from different psychological areas included in the Department of Human Sciences in Education as well as and in the PhD program.

The course also profits from the presence of hosts and visiting professors who will discuss their methodological approach with the Phd students.

CFU / Hours

CFU: 2

Hours: 16

Teaching period

The calendar of the workshops is available in the website.
