

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Ocular Diseases

2122-5-H4102D036-H4102D153M

Aims

The aim of the course is to provide the student through frontal lectures with the main notions of epidemiology, etiopathogenesis, clinical manifestations, differential diagnosis and the most useful diagnostic test, prognosis and therapy of the main diseases of the eye and visual apparatus.

Contents

To identify the clinical features of the more frequent ocular diseases.

Detailed program

Anatomy of the eye and physiology of the visual apparatus.

Principle of optics, ametropic defects of the eye.
Ophthalmic pediatry, strabismus, amblyopia.
Glaucoma and optic neuritis
Ocular manifestation of systemic diseases
Retinal detachment
Vascular pathology of the eye, age related maculopathy

Prerequisites

Propaedeutic Skills

Teaching form

Frontal lectures, subject to any ministerial changes following the COVID pandemic situation.

Textbook and teaching resource

John F. Salmon, Jack J. Kanski : Kanski's Clinical Ophthalmology ninth edition

Semester

First semester

Assessment method

Final exam consists in a multiple choice test with only one correct answer.

Office hours

Make an appointment with the Professor
