

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Newborn Assistance and Intensive Care in Delivery Room

2122-6-H4101D077

Aims

To illustrate assistance in the delivery room, an essential point for the pediatrician or hospital neonatologist as an indispensable technical and cultural background.

To provide the theoretical and practical elements to support the vital functions of a newborn after birth

Contents

During the course all the theoretical assumptions of the mechanism of asphyxia in the perinatal period are shown by a certified doctor (from the Italian society of neonatology) for teaching neonatal resuscitation according to the guidelines of the American Academy of Pediatrics. With the use of the demonstration with mannequins and other aids, it is shown how to proceed with resuscitation

Detailed program

Prerequisites

enrollment in the 6th year of course

Teaching form

In the classroom

Lesson in attendance, subject to any ministerial changes following the COVID pandemic situation

Textbook and teaching resource

Any suggested readings during the course

Semester

second

Assessment method

Certificate of attendance

Office hours

Segreteria di direzione Clinica Pediatrica 039-2333513
