Course title

Developmental Psychopathology

Topics and course structure

From the development of the normative system to the evaluation and classification with children and adolescents in educational settings, the course in developmental psychopathology aims at providing an integrated view of the emotional and clinical cognitive aspects from which maladaptive behaviors arise.

Emphasis is on risk factors and promotion aspects triggering mental health as well as on describing characteristics of disorders that are first evident in childhood. In our framework, the developmental psychopathology perspective represents an opportunity to think originally about the critical research and clinical outcomes that may arise from it.

Objectives

1) Contextualize the historical overview of developmental psychopathology.

2) Demonstrate the ability for critical evaluation of key aspects of developmental psychopathology.

3) Demonstrate the knowledge of different type of empirical tools for assessing and evaluating children' behaviors.
