

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Medical Pedagogy Applied To Dental Hygiene

2122-2-I0301D024

Aims

Prepare the student to deal autonomously with the most common clinical problems connected with odontostomatological diseases, the aspects of prevention, registration of clinical parameters and information processing.

Contents

The integrated course explores the topic of carious pathology and its complications. It teaches how to implement the prevention and prophylaxis protocols of the disease itself. At the end of the integrated course the student knows the carious pathology and its complications. He will also purchase the prevention and prophylaxis protocols of the disease itself.

Detailed program

- Planning of the therapeutic procedure of oral hygiene
- Topical application of prophylactic means to prevent, control and reduce orodental pathologies

Prerequisites

Knowledge of preventive dentistry and pedagogy

Teaching form

Lesson in attendance subject to any ministerial changes following the COVID pandemic situation

Textbook and teaching resource

Manual for dental hygiene students, University of Milan-Bicocca

Semester

second semester II° year

Assessment method

Oral examination

Office hours
