UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Economic History - 2

2122-1-E3301M191-E3301M192M-T2

Learning objectives

The course aims at providing the students with the fundamental conceptual skills necessary for the examination and interpretation of the main phenomena in economic history. The ultimate goal is the acquisition of abilities related to learning, investigation and analysis, with particular reference to historical development of economic systems. Students will be able to address the specific issues of economic systems, demonstrating an understanding of their structural changes in the long run

Contents

The course provides the basic elements of historical-economic research, focusing on the reasons of devolopment in a long run perspective starting from the features of economy in preindustrial period onward with special regards to the industrial revolution and industrious revolution, the second industrial revolution , the XXth century economy, the main economic issues nowadays. The final part of the course will deal with the Italian case of development

Detailed program

1. The historical method
2. The “mistery” of development

3. The interplay between man and environment: population and cities

4. Technological progress from early modern period onwaed: agriculture, undustry and trade

5. Money,the financial and credit system, the forms of enterprise

6. Who has left behind: the case of Africa
7. The economy nowadays
8. The Italian case of development

Prerequisites

Basic knowledge of the historical and political events (XVIIIth-XXth centuries)

Teaching methods

Lectures. The registration of the lessons will be available on the e-learning site.

Assessment methods

The exam is a written examination with fifteen questions multiple choice and five open questions administered with an e proctoring system. However also the oral exam is available on demand.

Textbooks and Reading Materials

L. Mocarelli, M. Rota, D. Strangio, Lo sviluppo economico. Un viaggio con più naufraghi che naviganti?, Milano, Mondadori, 2017

E. Felice, Ascesa e declino. Storia economica d'Italia, Bologna, Il Mulino 2015

Semester

First semester

Teaching language

Italian