COURSE SYLLABUS

Corporate Law

2122-2-E1401A007

Learning objectives

Grasp the essential dynamics of the firm and the foundations of its legal treatment.
Understand the main contents and logics of the law of business organizations.

Contents

The course focuses on the law governing business organizations in the Italian legal system. After a brief introduction to the essential features of the firm and an overview of the historical development of the legal treatment of business activities, the course will first address the discipline applicable to firms in general (definition, types, main areas of regulation). Then the course will be devoted to the regulation of legal entities, especially of entities with owners' limited liability. Finally, the course will concisely address legal issues that cut across the different types of companies, such as corporate groups and structural changes.
