Course title

The myth of Don Juan

Topics and course structure

An approach to literary studies conceived as critical representation of culture and of cultures, without predetermined linguistic or chronological boundaries. The analysis of texts, themes and poetics aims to put in evidence the relationship between things and words, discourse and reality, historical contexts and symbolic forms.

After a general introduction to Comparative Literature, this year the lecture course will focus on Don Juan, a character which represents one of the great myths of modernity. Our path will start from Spain, Don Juan's cradle, with Tirso de Molina's El burlador de Sevilla y convedado de piedra (1616); we will move on French «Grand Siècle» with Molière's play Dom Juan, ou le Festin de Pierre (1665), and then arrive at Mozart's Don Giovanni, or sia Il dissoluto punito, on Lorenzo Da Ponte's libretto (1787), the best known version of Don Juan's myth in the collective imagination. A final step will deal with one the countless contemporary variations: Don Giovanni ou O dissoluto absolvido dello scrittore portoghese José Saramago (2005).

Objectives

The student will become familiar with the idea that literature represents not only a thesaurus of themes and topics which most human sciences usually deal with, but also a way to develop formalized patterns of experience, in which a key role is played by formal features (language, style, modes, genres).

Methodologies

Lectures and discussion. Text analysis: linguistic and rhetorical features, narrative modes, cultural patterns. Exercises in oral presentation.

Information on how the lessons will take place will be provided at due time.
