UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Public Law for Economics 1

2223-3-E3301M149

Learning objectives

The course intends to deepen some current topics of public action in the economic field. In order to provide an overview of the problems currently affecting the intervention of public authorities in the economy, the program is divided into the examination of the regulatory framework and the administrative aspects related to economic relations and businesses.

Contents

The role of public authorities operating "in the market". The framing of constitutional principles in the economic field and the relationship between the market model and the form of the welfare state. Public services and in particular their organization and management modalities. The public discipline antitrust.

Detailed program

- The object of investigation: the economic public law: models and historical evolution.

- Economic constitution and European integration

- The competitive principle and economic regulation -

Public finance and economic policy at Community level

- The control of private finance

- Privatization and liberalization

- Public service

- The independent regulatory authorities

- Liberalized markets and regulation: the problem of infrastructure and user protection

- Methods of allocation in the public services market

- Origin and development of antritrust law in the Italian legal system

Prerequisites

Public law exam

Teaching methods

Traditional lectures.

Assessment methods

Oral Test. During the course could be done written assessment for attending students

Textbooks and Reading Materials

The textbooks will be communicated before the beginning of the lessons

Semester

Second semester

Teaching language

Italian

Sustainable Development Goals

INDUSTRY, INNOVATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE