Learning area

Learning objectives

Knowledge and understanding

Communication and copywriting processes and techniques (how advertising and digital agencies work; what are the roles and tasks; how offline and online campaign are carried out).

Digital storytelling techniques: how to write an editorial plan, how to plan it, how it develops on the various social channels over the months.

Applying knowledge and understanding

To create an editorial plan for a brand, and to develop it "in the field" on a weekly basis and supervised by the tutor.

Contents

We will analyze the foundations of communication and its evolution from analog to digital, to introduce the main topic of the class: digital storytelling. We will examine various case studies of brands, to highlight their storytelling strategies, that create the brand identity. Different digital writing techniques will be introduced and applied, with references to the great masters of advertising but also of creative writing in general.
