COURSE SYLLABUS

Further Language Knowledge (communication Skills)

2223-1-F7702M061

Learning objectives

The aim of the course is to enhance the students' communication skills in English. Special relevance will be given to oral skills: pronunciation, lexical choices, cohesion and coherence of speech, register, etc. The students will learn to use the language and different persuasion techniques to reach their communication goals.

Contents

The course focuses on different aspects of English communication; through the study of the theory, the student will learn and practice first-hand the skills required to communicate clearly and effectively.

From the theoretical models of the communication process and the science of persuasion, we will move on to the art of public speaking and the presentation skills required to engage and persuade the audience.

Detailed program

PERSUASION

- The communication process
