Breve descrizione

Main topics

- Valuation: principles and practice in the sustainability era
- Measuring project returns

- Investment decision rules
- Project interaction, side costs and side benefits
- Risk measurement
- The choices: the types of financing

Objectives of the program: how to evaluate the added value of a new venture or new project, considering both their financial and ESG sustainability. The subsequent step is to learn how to communicate such a value to internal (board of directors) and external stakeholders (financial intermediaries, markets, Fintech firms, public institutions)

Evaluation: Written test and individual/group assignments
