SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Internato in Cure Palliative

2324-5-H4101D378

Aims

To provide students with direct experience in the management, care, and assistance of oncological and non-oncological patients - adult and paediatric patients - who develop complex and advanced chronic conditions under the care of hospital, hospice, and home care facilities within local palliative care networks through specialized teams.

Contents

Know the semeiotics and the clinical problems of the incurable patient.

Knowledge of assessment scales for specific palliative care needs.

Recognizing different attitudes and emotional responses in the face of incurable illness, dying, death, and mourning.

Identifying factors that promote empathetic and personalized communication with patients and/or their families.

Recognizing the physical, psychological, social, existential, and spiritual needs of patients and families, as well as possible pathological conditions related to end-of-life situations and their associated symptoms.

Identifying factors that facilitate teamwork.

Detailed program

The student will accompany the supervising physician during their working day, following a guided tour of the network's facilities.

- Discussion of clinical cases addressing the following topics:
 - Pharmacological treatment of the most common symptoms.

- Severe, refractory symptoms, and palliative sedation.
- Communication with patients and families.
- Psychological, existential, and spiritual aspects, death, and mourning.
- Utilization of assessment scales for identifying and assessing the need for palliative care.
- Informed consent and advance care planning.
- Participation in team meetings.
