UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Social Sciences

2324-1-I0201D128-I0201D184M

Aims

The course aims to provide students with the elements relating to the social aspects of the profession, in order to be able to adequately place it in a complex context of relationships and operational networks and in a socio-historical perspective.

Contents

The course introduces sociology and deals with the social aspects of the profession.

Detailed program

the course offers an introduction to sociology: basic concepts and the job of the sociologist, with an in-depth study of certain topics specific to the sociology of health and medicine (social inequalities in terms of health; the process of medicalisation of society; welfare systems; the body)

Prerequisites

Nothing

Teaching form

Lectures, small group exercises. Lessons in attendance, subject to any ministerial changes following the COVID pandemic situation

Textbook and teaching resource

Bagnasco A., Barbagli M., Cavalli A. (2011), "Che cos'è la sociologia?" in Elementi di sociologia, Il Mulino, Bologna

Ghigi R. (2020), "La costruzione sociale del corpo", in Sociologia della salute e della medicina, Il Mulino, Bologna

Neresini F. (2001), "Salute, malattia e medicina: lo sguardo sociologico", in Bucchi Massimiliano e Neresini Federico, Sociologia della salute, Carocci, Roma.

Semester

Autumn semester

Assessment method

Written examination according to common procedures

Office hours

By appointment (write to: carlotta.mozzana@unimib.it)

Sustainable Development Goals

GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING | SUSTAINABLE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES