UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

COURSE SYLLABUS

Beyond The Haematological Disease: The Patient and His Frailties

2324-2-I0101D918

Aims

Provide the nursing student with specific knowledge on the particularity assistance to the patient suffering from onco-haematological diseases, starting from an in-depth study of the clinic, moving on to therapeutic procedures such as chemotherapy and stem cell transplantation, deepening the relational aspects

Contents

1. The care approach to the haematological patient starting from an analysis of the organizational context.
2. The particular fragility of the assisted persons.
3. The main pathologies

Detailed program

- Introduction of the organizational context of Hematology department;
- Description of the particular characteristics and needs of the assisted person;
- The illnesses involved;
- Nursing assistance to the main diagnostic and therapeutic procedures (bone marrow aspirate; bone biopsy; medicated rachicentesis; therapeutic apheresis)
- Bone marrow transplant (allogeneic and autologous);
- communication and relationship with the patient's relatives
- Psychological support for family patients and caregivers.
- The end of life event as a result or complication of the disease;
- Taking charge of the patient after discharge

Prerequisites

Students must be enrolled in the second year of Bachelor Degree in Nursing Science

Teaching form

Lesson, video projection, discussion and group work

Textbook and teaching resource

Papers and books’ chapters will be provided

Semester

second semester

Assessment method

frequency

Office hours

Sustainable Development Goals

GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING | QUALITY EDUCATION