COURSE SYLLABUS

Further Language Skills in Management Sciences I - English

2324-2-F7701M070

Learning objectives

The course aims to consolidate and extend the language skills attained by the students during their three-year-undergraduate studies. Considering the unchallenged role of English as today's lingua franca, it is imperative for learners not only to maintain their acquired knowledge of the language but also to keep abreast of its ever-changing expressions and idioms. The course thus aims to develop and refine the students' ability to succeed in the dynamic environment of the English-speaking business world today.

The level envisaged is B2/C1 (The Common European Frame of Reference), in the particular field of commerce and business correspondence.

Contents

By the end of the course, students will be familiar with

- the structure of the language
- communication in commercial contexts
- the appropriate vocabulary, tone and register in diverse social, business and trade situations
- business communications. They will have improved their general language skills, so as to become autonomous users of business language.

Detailed program

The course will provide models and exercises relating to the varied situations students are likely to meet in the international business world.

Topics to be treated include:

- typologies of business letters
- economic and financial considerations
- formal and informal e-mails
- job applications and CVs
- business organisations
- letters of enquiry
- internet: e-business and e-commerce
- replying to enquiries
- banks and financial situations
- retailing
- international trade
