SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

English for Tourism

2324-1-F4901N111

---

Learning objectives

The primary educational objective of the course is to guide and motivate students, and to give them the tools to continue studying autonomously even after the course is finished. Students will be taught how to deal with both the study of academic and commercial texts, and to hold a conversation contextualized to the professional sphere. The teaching approach aims to improve the students' skills to form, re-elaborate and express both new concepts and structured opinions with accuracy and fluency. The course therefore focuses on the development of all the skills required by a complete knowledge of a foreign language: both oral and written comprehension and production.

Contents

The course revolves around three macro areas:

1. English Grammar and syntax to get to level C1 in receptive skills (listening and reading) and level B2 in productive skills (speaking and writing).
2. Detailed study of the lexicon of the tourism sector by reading and viewing authentic and up-to-date material on issues that characterize Italian and foreign tourism and revolving industries.
3. Development of critical expression abilities
