Title

International or foreign strategies, patent rights, employees and researchers' intellectual property rights

Teacher

Matteo Di Lernia, Miriam Loro Piana (LCA Studio Legale)

Language

English

Short description

The seminar aims at providing the students with an overview on the main Intellectual Property Rights (with focus on patents) along with a specific knowledge on the main patent filing options and strategies, the exclusive rights granted by a patent and the employees and researchers' rights on the inventions realized during their work relationship with pri-vate and public entities, also through the analysis of relevant case law.

Expected outcome:

- identify pros and cons of the different patent filing options;
- clear understanding of the scope of protection of a patent;
- legal framework of the employees and researchers' intellectual property rights and awareness of the risks deriving from a bad drafted employees' contract.

Table of contents

- International or foreign patent filing strategies: Italian patent application, European patent application and PCT patent application: timing and costs;
- Rights conferred by patents (moral rights and property rights) and scope of protection;
- Employees and researchers' rights on inventions: focus on Art. 64 and Art. 65 of the Italian Industrial Property Code and International perspective
