COURSE SYLLABUS

Pathophysiology of heart failure

2324-76R-HFPP

Title

Pathophysiology of heart failure

Teacher(s)

Prof. Antonio Zaza

Language

italian/english

Short description

The course will deal with the pathophysiology of heart failure from a molecular/cellular and organ point of view, with a translational focus. Contractile deficit, electrical disorders and their interrelation will be treated. The concept of "myocardial remodelling", a secondary process with multiple etiologies, will be introduced; if time allows, the primary mechanisms specific to specific etiologies will be addressed.
