UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO-BICOCCA

SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Psicologia

2425-1-I0301D004-I0301D013M

Aims

The student should be able to recognize the role and the contributions of psychology to health care

Contents

Aim of the teaching is to give students the tools to understand ethical issues in healthcare, including those concerning the relationship between healthcare workers and patients and between healthcare workers and workplace

Detailed program

· The role of Psychology in healthcare contexts.

· Thinking and reasoning: cognitive biases and diagnostic errors.

· The modern concept of health

. Health Communication.

Prerequisites

Teaching form

Frontal Lectures.

Textbook and teaching resource

The Teacher will provide educational materials.

For Erasmus students, course material can also be available in English, and students can take the exam in English if they wish to do so.

Semester

Second semester

Assessment method

Short essay on topics covered in the module. The evaluation criteria are: the ability to coherently and critically review the topics covered in the module

Office hours

By appointment required by mail

Sustainable Development Goals

GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING