SYLLABUS DEL CORSO

Economia e Tecnica della Comunicazione Aziendale - 2

2425-2-E1801M042-E1801M057M-T2

Learning objectives

By the end of the course, students will have developed an adequate knowledge of the policies, strategies and main corporate communication tools of global companies.

Contents

This course addresses the topic of corporate communication for global firms operating in highly competitive markets. First, the economics of corporate communication is examined with reference to competitive dynamics and modern business economics. The interaction between corporate communication and the enterprise intangible resource system is then developed. Finally, the techniques and tools of analog and digital corporate communication are explored with regard to corporate, product and brand areas. Finally, the global declinations of corporate communication are developed, both with reference to economic dimensions and with regard to techniques and tools.

Prerequisites

Students are requested, only if they intend to take the Corporate Global Communications course, to enroll (spontaneous enrollment) in both modules and, if the system allows, also in the total (Corporate Global Communications). This will facilitate classroom attendance control and allow your participation in the written pre-appointment.

Students are advised that IT IS NOT POSSIBLE to enroll in a Shift 1 (A-LH) and attend classes in Shift 2 (LI-Z), or vice versa. Those enrolled in a Shift must attend and participate in the examination of that Shift. As per the regulations, no exceptions can be made, even for Erasmus students.

Teaching methods

All lectures are conducted in the in-presence delivery mode.

Assessment methods
