Detailed program

The process of globalization of markets requires that those who work in the sector must continuously update skills and competences. Marketing is one of the leading sectors of the Italian economy. The growth of the sector offers significant employment opportunities but also requires the training of qualified operators, able to understand and deal with a very competitive market. Faced with an increasingly complex and competitive sector, a world in which consumers require new, customized and sustainable products, companies are facing changes in their work cultures, in organization and management in order to provide adequate services to the industry. They must adapt to the constant demand for improvement of quality of service and must be capable of measuring the effectiveness and efficiency of the management systems used in a perspective of growth and development. The mastery of the English language enables students to enhance their professional validity at national and international levels.

The course aims to develop the receptive and productive capacities by practising the various reading strategies to deal with texts of a specialized nature in the field of marketing. It aims to give the student a solid linguistic foundation focused on language of the sector. The course aims to present the following topics by analysing the language for both grammar and lexis. The themes will also be used to stimulate discussion.

They include:

Cultural diversity and 'difference' in the workplace Global marketing issues Employment issues in Italy and abroad Leadership and management issues Developing Asian markets Financial institutions Sustainable systems
