Teaching methods

38 hours of taught lectures, of which 12 hours online, and 4 hours of interactive lectures. During interactive lectures open questions and numerical exercises will be discussed with the chance for attending students to obtain additional points.

Assessment methods

Written exam, with an option to take an intermediate test, based partly on open questions and partly on numerical exercises.

The intermediate test can be taken by all students who exert the option through the e-learning page and will concern parts 1a), 1b) and 2a).

Students who obtain a positive evaluation in the intermediate text will be allowed to take, during normal exam sessions, only the part of the exam referring to points 2b), and 2c). This opportunity will be valid until the last exam session for academic year 2024-2025.

Students who do not obtain a positive evaluation in the intermediate text will take, during normal exam sessions, both parts of the exam.

The final grade will be given by a weighted sum of grades obtained in each of the two parts and of additional points, for a maximum of 4 points, obtained during the interactive lectures by answering to open questions or solving exercises.
