Teaching methods

22 two-hour lectures, in person, Delivered Didactics

2 two-hour e-learning lectures, Delivered Didactics

During the lecture students will be instructed about theoretical model and empirical cases based on real world data.

Assessment methods

The exam will be in viva form as an interview on the topics covered. The interview aims at understanding the student's ability to deal with economic principles, in general and applied to real world cases.

The knowledge required to sustain the test are represented by those acquired during the course and based on the teaching material provided.

Students may submit a written essay on a topic analyzed during classes based on new research material.

The assessment will be based on the completeness of the preparation, on the degree of understanding of the analyzed issues and of their relationships, on the ability to grasp, through the offered theoretical framework, the main concrete issues and dynamics underway on the global markets, currently subject of international scientific debate.

Adequate weight will also be given to the candidate's language skills and exhibition capacity.

The evaluation range is 18-30/30.
