Short description

Conservation of value and its transmission: museums and archives. The museum institution in its complex articulation enables the conservation and communication of intangible heritage. Some of the business museums will be presented and seen in their daily functionality (Valerio Varini). Attention will be paid to ethnographic museums (Carolina Orsini), such as MuDEC. While for archives, the Polo di Archivio Storico and the Archivio Storico della Psicologia of the University of Milan Bicocca will allow in-depth studies from the sacred to the cultural good (Aurelio Molaro). Finally, an in-depth look at ethnographic research in urban and island contexts of the Mediterranean (Francesco Vietti).

The course will include the following lectures/seminars.

The entire didactic method of delivery is organised with face-to-face lectures (Didactics Erogative).

Dialogue lectures (including exercises and small laboratory activities) will be used to stimulate a critical approach to the discipline and reflection on the experiences presented.

The course includes one or more evaluations.
