- Autonomy of judgment in identifying and interpreting the various dispositions that govern the civil process;
- Communication skills in presenting and discussing the general principles and the different procedural phases;
- Ability for independent learning, also through the consultation of regulatory, doctrinal, and jurisprudential sources.

Contents

CIVIL PROCEDURE MOD. A

The main purpose of the course is to analyze the general rules governing civil proceedings and the structure of the ordinary civil process.

Jurisdiction indeed has a primary function in every legal system, laying on a delicate mechanism in which each governmental function has to comply with rules of responsibility and finds its balance in other governmental functions.

The first part of the course will be devoted to the general principles of the procedural law, the constitutional guarantees of the jurisdictional power, the different kind of lawsuits (ordinary, enforceable, precautional), with special reference to the ordinary proceedings and its acts, topics and issues.

The second part of the course deals with the civil proceeding in detail, analyzing the entire system of the ordinary proceeding, that is, the main procedural model in our legal system. In this way, the ordinary civil proceeding is examined through its whole tracks: from pleadings to the judicial decision, taking into account the recent reforms of l. n. 206/2021 e d.lgs. n. 149/2022.

CIVIL PROCEDURE MOD. B

The course goes on with the explanation of the system of recourses against judgements. It concerns the general principles of recourses, the first appeal, the proceeding before the Supreme Court (Corte di cassazione), the opposition of a third party and the s.c. exatrrordinary appeals, taking into account the recent reforms of l. n. 206/2021 e d.lgs. n. 149/2022.
