Detailed program

The workshop, through practical experiences and theoretical moments, leads the students to reflect on the importance of non-verbal communication, important for social work. We will teach art therapies, relaxation and mindfulness techniques in order to expand the body awareness and non-verbal expressive possibilities. The aim of the laboratory is to increase one's reflexive and non-verbal language skills.

Prerequisites

Sufficient educational skills in logic, social culture and reasonable capacities in learning, writing and communication.

Teaching methods

Workshop with theoretical and methodological moments starting from the experiences.

Interactive mode with exercises, group and individual work.

The activities will take place in person; the teacher will deliver remotely (no more than 30% of the total lesson hours) in case of emergency/unforeseen situations (strikes,...) with interactive and individual activities.

Assessment methods

Participation is a means an assesment method. The lab will be graded as pass/fail based on attendance. Exercises in small groups, such as role-playing, work on himself, papers, etc.

Textbooks and Reading Materials

They will be given during the meetings.
