2627-1-K0102D003-K0102D00304

Aims

The course aims to provide students with knowledge of the main regulations governing healthcare organization, professional practice, and nursing education, identifying their significance and influence on professional development. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to use knowledge of the regulatory evolution of the nursing profession as a framework for understanding and guiding professional practice.

Contents

Introduction to the evolution of healthcare and nursing regulations and their impact on the development of the nursing profession.

Detailed program

The course provides an overview of the sources of law and the main legal and regulatory frameworks governing the National Health Service. Students will examine the main regulations concerning nursing professional practice and nursing education, as well as the responsibilities of nurses within professional practice. Particular attention will be given to the relationship between regulatory developments and the evolution of the nursing profession, highlighting how legislation has contributed to defining nurses' roles, competencies, responsibilities, and professional autonomy.
