La prassi dell'area di prácticas del lenguaje

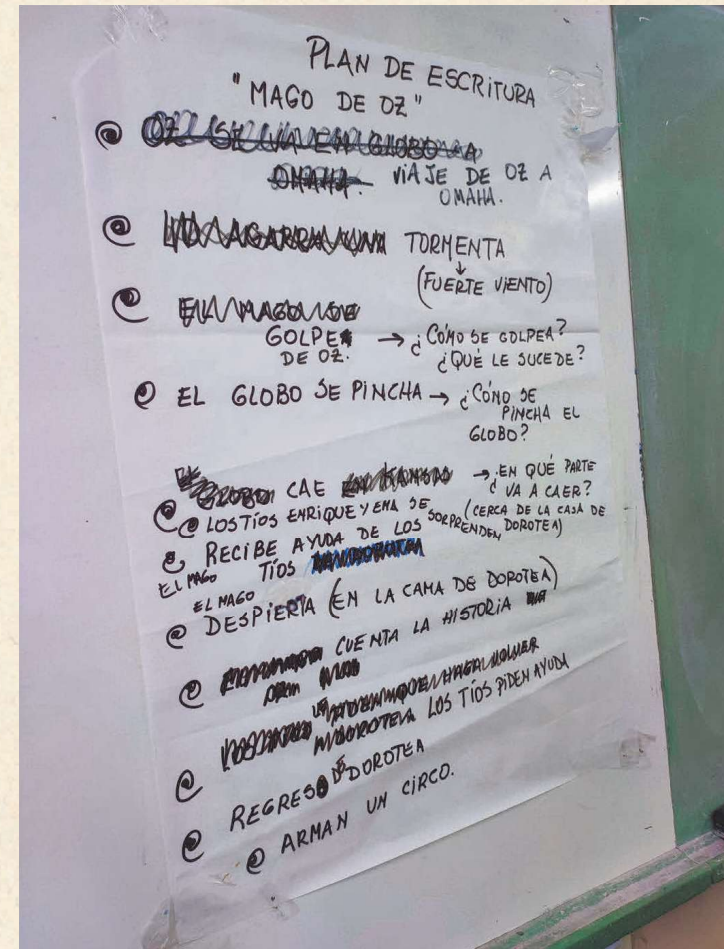

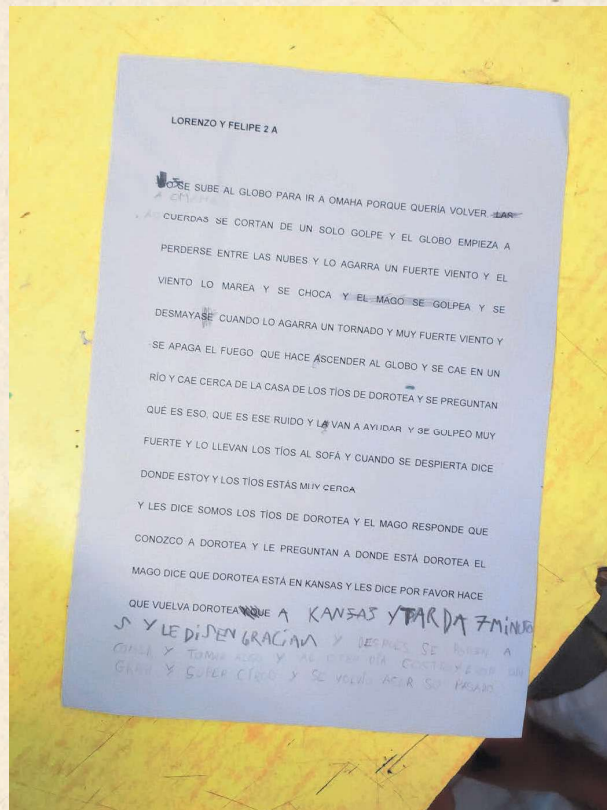

A photograph of a classroom scene. A female teacher with glasses, wearing a dark cardigan over a light blue top, sits on a chair in the center of the room, holding a yellow book and reading aloud. A group of young students, mostly boys, are sitting on the wooden floor, facing the teacher. They are wearing light-colored school uniforms. The classroom has wooden desks and chairs. In the background, there is a whiteboard with some writing and a red door. A small table in the foreground has a notebook and a pen on it.
