The University Guidance Services Network

Curated by the Guidance, Internship, and Placement Office

An Expert and Scientific Approach

- The creation of these services is the result of field observations conducted by experienced professionals who have identified (and continue to identify) the needs and structured actions to support academic careers.
- This approach guarantees functional interventions tailored to specific needs, aiming not only at providing information, but also at fostering personal growth and decision-making for students.

Who We Address

These completely free services are available not only to traditional students (high school seniors, prospective students, enrolled students in subsequent years), but to anyone who wishes to start or resume studying at any stage of life.

Entry

Support for choices and transitions for every student profile.

During Studies

360-degree support throughout the academic path.

Exit

Guidance and networking toward the professional world.

Building Your Future

S.O.S

First point of contact and information. It welcomes and supports prospective students and serves as a reference point for enrolled students who need information or guidance to continue their studies.

Life Design Psy-Lab

To develop personal and social resources and plan your future, helping you face choices, your academic journey, present uncertainties, and future planning with greater peace of mind.

Entry & During Studies

Experiencing University

Peer tutoring

Welcome and guidance service provided by senior students to assist younger students and ease their transition into university life.

Study Method

Methods and strategies to improve student performance and reduce delays or dropout rates.

RITMO - Rethinking Times and Methods for Orientation

Pedagogical counseling to find or regain your study pace and build a personalized academic career strategy.

During Studies

Student Well-being

Psychological Counselling

A safe space for listening and discussion to overcome personal difficulties impacting overall well-being, whether related to university, personal, or family life.

During Studies

An Accessible and Inclusive University

Bicocca Bridge

Enhancing intercultural pathways through a peer-to-peer perspective to foster a sense of belonging in the university community.

B- inclusion

The reference point for experiencing university without barriers, featuring services designed for students with disabilities or specific learning difficulties.

Entry & During Studies

Toward the Professional World

Internships & Placement

Curricular and extracurricular internships, career guidance, networking, events, and job opportunities.

During Studies & Exit

Where can we find all of this?

bicocca orienta

@bicoccaorienta